

Rough Draft of Thesis

A full rough draft of the thesis means a complete draft that includes all of the following sections. (For further details, consult the “Writing a Thesis” guidelines provided at the beginning of the semester, and available on the course website.)

Introduction, Research Question and Background

Literature Review (or Theory and Hypotheses)

Methods and Data

Results

Discussion

Bibliography

Use the examples of excellent theses posted on the course website for inspiration.

Schedule for End of Semester, Fall 2021

Tuesday, November 2	Discussion of Progress with Thesis Drafts
Sunday, November 7	First Rough Draft of Full Thesis Due Note: Drafts will be circulated to the group for comment in subsequent weeks
Tuesday, November 9	Feedback on Rough Drafts of Theses
Tuesday, November 16	Feedback on Rough Drafts of Theses
Tuesday, November 23	Feedback on Rough Drafts of Theses
Tuesday, November 30	Class Presentations of Draft Theses #1
Tuesday, December 14	Class Presentations of Draft Theses #2
Tuesday, December 21	Final Drafts of Thesis Due